Most organisations struggle with manual procurement processes that are bogged down in paperwork. Form-based procedures are more prone to error and delay, while lack of visibility exposes the organisation to inappropriate spends and wasted money. With Smart eReqs, purchasing is streamlined and automated. The process draws on centrally stored information about suppliers, with drop-down lists of approved vendors/items. Step-by-step workflow ensures requisitions are only approved by authorised people in a timely manner, avoiding unapproved purchases and ensuring the best price is achieved.

End-to-end visibility on company expenditure makes it possible to identify areas of inefficiency and surplus spending, improving an organisation's cost management capability.
